The ACG awards fellowships and organizes leadership missions which are designed to enable German and American professionals to travel across the Atlantic to meet with their counterparts. In addition to travel expenses, a stipend in the form of per diem ($200) is provided in advance of each participant's trip to cover meals and lodging. Payment of the stipend is not made until the itinerary has been approved. A portion of the per diem is withheld until the participant submits a substantive report upon the completion of the trip. Occasionally additional payments may be made upon the participant's return for unanticipated domestic travel. Documentation and rationale for these additional expenses is required.

Part I, Line 3f - Investments & Expenditures Per Region

Roughly 10 to 15 Germans travel to the United States each year under the auspices of the ACG's fellowship programs and leadership missions. Form 990, Part III, Line 1 - Organization Mission

The American Council on Germany (ACG) is an independent, nonpartisan nonprofit organization that was founded in 1952 to strengthen German-American relations. Today, the ACG works across generations to provide a deeper, more nuanced understanding about Germany, Europe, and the importance of the transatlantic partnership. Through a range of programs and activities, the ACG addresses the most pressing economic, political, and social challenges of the day to ensure better mutual understanding.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a - Program Service Accomplishments

POLICY DISCUSSIONS

The American Council on Germany (ACG) is the leading U.S.-based forum for strengthening German-American relations. It delivers a deep and nuanced understanding of why Germany matters to the United States, because the only way to understand contemporary Europe is to understand Germany's role within Europe and around the world. And, the only way to understand contemporary Germany is to put it in a European context.

The ACG examines German-American relations on three levels: the bilateral relationship, the ties between Europe and the United States, and how the transatlantic partnership can meet global challenges. In addition to German and U.S. domestic politics and U.S. and European foreign policy, the ACG covers a wide swath of economic, political, and social issues of common concern on both sides of the Atlantic. By examining the issues facing Europe and the United States, the ACG is able to provide insights and analysis of policy choices on both sides of the Atlantic.

The ACG hosts between 40 and 50 events in New York each year featuring prominent government officials, analysts, and other influential figures in larger, lecture-style events as well as smaller, high-level briefings. The ACG co-sponsors a regular series on the Transatlantic Global Agenda and offers a Political Salon series of events tailored to the interests of younger and mid-career professionals. In addition, the Council hosts special lectures as part of its McCloy Lecture Series, Arthur F. Burns Memorial Lecture, and the Garrick Utley Lecture Series on Global Media Issues.

In 1992, the ACG launched its national outreach through a network of Eric M. Warburg Chapters. There are now Chapters in 21 cities: Atlanta, Boca Raton, Boston, Charlotte, Chicago, Dallas, Denver, Indianapolis, Madison, Minneapolis/St. Paul, Nashville, Philadelphia, Phoenix, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, San Diego, San Francisco, Seattle, and greater Washington DC. Through its Chapters the ACG encourages discussion and the exchange of ideas concerning Germany and European affairs in communities across the country. The ACG has made a concerted effort to engage students and faculty at local high schools and universities in many Chapter cities. Government officials, politicians, business leaders, journalists, academics, and policy analysts have been among those to speak at Chapter events.

the non-profit sector by organizing conferences to familiarize them with key transatlantic issues. These conferences also enable these representatives from the "successor generation" to establish a network of contacts at home and on the other side of the Atlantic. The main goals of the ACG's Young Leaders programs are to provide a forum for bright, informed, and sophisticated young professionals to discuss major issues in an informal setting; to encourage participants to deal frankly with the issues on their own terms, and to explore and debate their differences and common interests; and, to create an enduring community of leaders who are engaged and committed to strengthening the transatlantic partnership.

The annual week-long American-German Young Leaders Conferences bring together up to 50 Germans and Americans. The relationships formed during the Young Leaders' brief time together serve as a valuable investment in the transatlantic relationship. Alumni have gone on to become high-ranking members of the U.S. and German governments; Congress and the Bundestag; the European Parliament; local city governments; military leaders; and editorial writers.

The ACG continues to remain in touch with the alumni from its Young Leaders programs by offering substantive events and networking opportunities.

Participants in these hands-on and experiential programs gain a deeper understanding of how issues are approached on the other side of the Atlantic and forge lasting connections with their transatlantic counterparts and fellowship alumni.

The ACG offers McCloy Fellowship on Global Trends to help practitioners on both sides of the Atlantic come to terms with common challenges. McCloy Fellowships are available to individuals from nonprofits, think tanks, law, journalism, the public sector, and cultural organizations in relatively early stages of their careers. The Anna-Maria and Stephen M. Kellen Fellowships allow Berlin-based journalists to conduct research in the United States. The ACG also supports the work of promising American scholars who are studying important elements of the transatlantic relationship from both historical and contemporary standpoints through the Dr. Guido Goldman Fellowship for the Study of German and European Economic and International Affairs and the Dr. Richard M. Hunt Fellowship for the Study of German Politics, Society, and Culture. The fellowships also represent a long-lasting investment in the future of the transatlantic relationship.

For more than 30 years, the American Council on Germany has arranged in-depth fact-finding trips for practitioners and experts to travel across the Atlantic to meet with their professional counterparts and exchange best practices. Through Study Tours and Leadership Missions, the ACG has given groups of professionals the opportunity to engage in dialogue with officials, business leaders, journalists, and other experts to gain a better understanding of the political, economic, social, and environmental landscape on either side of the Atlantic. Launched in 2016, the ACG's current Leadership Missions focus on urban affairs and sustainability as well as agriculture and food security.

CONFERENCES AND OTHER OUTREACH

The ACG regularly organizes policy conferences to bring together policymakers, business leaders, journalists, academics, and analysts to share their expertise and exchange perspectives on issues of contemporary concern. These conferences promote transatlantic understanding and strive to facilitate more effective policy coordination. The conferences have both taken a wide view of transatlantic relations and have focused on specific issues ranging from smart cities or health care to NATO's role and Russia or the global financial crisis. Following the conferences, participants often look to create practical policy solutions to complex problems.

In addition to events and activities, the ACG engages in outreach to its members and the community at large through traditional and new media to keep them informed about the myriad of issues affecting the German-American relationship and transatlantic affairs. In addition to a series of publications, the ACG produces a weekly compilation of opinion pieces and analysis as well as a monthly newsletter.
